

The Private Pilot License (PPL) ECAR 61:

The Private Pilot Syllabus has been specifically developed to meet the requirements of ECAR Part 61. The syllabus should be considered as an abstract or digest of the course of training. As such, it is important that instructors also refer to the pertinent sections of the regulations during the conduct of the course. This will ensure that all aeronautical knowledge areas, flight proficiency, and experience requirements have been included during flight training and are documented in appropriate records. The terminology for maneuvers and procedures listed in the syllabus is aligned with the "tasks" which are published in the ECAA's Private Pilot Practical Test Standards.
